

VitalGaze Health Screening Report

Health Screening Report for Sashreek Satapathy

*Date of Birth: January 16, 2026

Screening Observations:

- Tongue: The appearance of the tongue shows signs described as "crenated," meaning the edges have a scalloped or wavy pattern. This was identified with a high level of confidence (94.4%).
- Eyes: The eyes appear slightly pale, a condition referred to as "anemic," identified with moderate confidence (42.9%).

What These Findings May Indicate:

- A crenated tongue can sometimes be a result of mild swelling of the tongue causing it to press against the teeth, or it may be related to habits such as pressing the tongue against the teeth. It can also be associated with nutritional factors or mild dehydration.
- The observation of paler eyes might suggest a lower level of red blood cells or hemoglobin, which can be related to anemia. Anemia is a condition where the body does not have enough healthy red blood cells, potentially leading to tiredness or weakness.

Important Note:

These findings are preliminary and based on visual screening alone. They do not constitute a medical diagnosis. If you have any concerns or symptoms, please consult a healthcare professional for a comprehensive evaluation and appropriate testing.
